Janagraha Centre for Citizenship and Democracy:

Janagraha is dedicated to promote quality of life in Indian cities through urban good governance and citizen empowerment. Janaagraha Centre for Citizenship and Democracy (www.janaagraha.org) was founded by Swati Ramanathan and Ramesh Ramanathan in December 2001. It is registered under the Indian Trusts Act, 1882. Janaagraha's mission is to transform quality of life in India's cities and towns. We work with citizens to catalyze active citizenship in city neighborhoods and with governments to institute reforms to city governance (what we call "city-systems"). Civic Learning, Civic Participation and Advocacy and Reforms are Janaagraha's three major strands of work to accomplish its mission.

About Seminar:

There are abundant reasons for the cause of corruption in India. The primary reason being lack of effective management in organization, due to mismanagement, there is a weak control on various departments and their working. This uncontrolled and unsupervised administration gives way to rise in corruption in small scale, which results in large scale corruption. Besides, appointment of inefficient managers, supervisors and executives at various levels of hierarchy also leads to mismanagement. One Day Seminar on 'Retain Corruption in India' is an initiative of BMS College of Law to bring changes in the society which is dented because of corrupt practices in all sectors. The resource person will throw light on many issues related to corruption and laws enforced in India.

Objectives of the seminar:

The seminar intended to achieve its primary objective of creating awareness among participants about corrupt practices in retail sector. Sharing hands on experiences about mechanism adopted by the government to curb corruption in retail sector and measures taken to protect the interest of consumers. The retail sector, specially e-commerce retail sector are attracting more number of customers, but these customers have become victims of online frauds, misrepresentation, misleading advertisements, etc. The seminar will provide insight about laws relating to corruption in India for better understanding.

Who can participate:

Academicians, Advocates, Professionals, Research Scholars, Students, and Social Activists can participate in the seminar. Certificate of Participation shall be issued to all the attendees.

About the Seminar

A number of emerging areas of law have not figured either in the curriculum of law teaching institutions or in the skill building exercises for a practitioner of law. As such, while the demand for Professional Advice, Practice and Conflict Resolution are constantly on the ascendant on these areas, comprehension, capacity to understand and the much needed skill of application, are conspicuous by their absence in the academia, bar and the Bench. It is thus an imperative need, to update and adequately equip in them among all the concerned. Biodiversity Law is one such area craving for attention in the academia for putting into application through practice for a law professional. The National Workshop on Bio-Diversity Law – A Cross Over Regime Between Conservation And Commerce is intended to address this felt need. Being organised by BMS College of Law, one of the premier law teaching institutions in India, that has produced world class practitioners of law that includes, eminent judges of Chief Justices of India stature-) presents an excellent opportunity for Law Teachers, Budding Lawyers and Young Professionals to get initiated into this exciting aspect of learning and application of law. The Commons Cell in National Law School of India University, Bengaluru and the National Biodiversity Authority, Chennai are partnering BMS Law College, by lending their expertise and experience in this intellectual enterprise.

The workshop intends to acquaint, familiarise and build skills in the knowledge, application and practice of biodiversity law in India, among the students, teachers, researchers and practitioners of law. A number of Expert Presentations on a wide variety of issues concerning the law await the participants in the Plenary Sessions.

In order to facilitate participation in larger numbers and to act as a catalyst for gaining deeper insights in the subject, Parallel sessions are conceived to enable teachers, practitioners and students from different parts of India to make presentations on a number of themes, as indicated below:

PRINCIPAL

1. Case Law concerning Biodiversity

Acharya, Senior Advocate, former Member, Law Commission of India, having served the illustrious institution in various capacities.

National Law School of India University

The National Law School of India University, Bengaluru came in to existence through a notification under the National Law School of India University Act 1986. It signified the culmination of efforts by the Judiciary, Bar Council of India, Karnataka Bar Council and the Government of Karnataka to reform legal education and to establish a centre of excellence and research in India. The Chief Justice of India is the Chancellor of University. The Chairman, Bar Council of India is the chairman of the General Council. NSIU is ranked No.1 amongst the Law Universities in India.

National Biodiversity Authority

The National Biodiversity Authority (NBA) was established in 2003 to implement India's Biological Diversity Act (2002). The NBA is a Statutory, Autonomous Body and it performs facilitative, regulatory, and advisory function for the Government of India on issues of conservation, sustainable use of biological resources, fair and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the use of biological resources.

The Biological Diversity Act (2002) mandates implementation of the Act through decentralized system with the NBA focusing on advising the Central Government on matters relating to the conservation of biodiversity, sustainable use of its components and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the utilization of biological resources. The NBA with its headquarters in Chennai, Tamil Nadu, delivers its mandate through a structure that comprises of the Authority, Secretariat, SBBS, BMCs and Expert Committees.

About the Seminar

A number of emerging areas of law have not figured either in the curriculum of law teaching institutions or in the skill building exercises for a practitioner of law. As such, while the demand for Professional Advice, Practice and Conflict Resolution are constantly on the ascendant on these areas, comprehension, capacity to understand and the much needed skill of application, are conspicuous by their absence in the academia, bar and the Bench. It is thus an imperative need, to update and adequately equip in them among all the concerned. Biodiversity Law is one such area craving for attention in the academia for putting into application through practice for a law professional. The National Workshop on Bio-Diversity Law - A Cross Over Regime Between Conservation And Commerce is intended to address this felt need. Being organised by BMS College of Law, one of the premier law teaching institutions in India, that has produced world class practitioners of law (that includes, eminent judges of India stature) presents an excellent opportunity for law teachers, Budding Lawyers, and Young Professionals to get initiated into this exciting aspect of learning and application of law. The Commons Cell in National Law School of India University, Bengaluru and the National Biodiversity Authority, Chennai are partnering BMS Law College, by lending their expertise and experience in this intellectual enterprise.

The workshop intends to acquaint, familiarise and build skills in the knowledge, application and practice of biodiversity law in India, among the students, teachers, researchers and practitioners of law. A number of Expert presentations on a wide variety of issues concerning the law await the participants in the Plenary Sessions.

In order to facilitate participation in larger numbers and to act as a catalyst for gaining deeper insights in the subject, Parallel sessions are conceived to enable teachers, practitioners and students from different parts of India to make presentations on a number of themes, as indicated below:

1. Case Law concerning Biodiversity
2. Comparative study of Biodiversity legal regime in other countries
3. Adequacy of safeguard measures to ensure bio safety concerning BMS SPECIAL LAND HAZARDOUS WASTE organisms
4. Efficacy and effectiveness of provisions and measures for preventing bio-piracy

National Biodiversity Authority

The National Biodiversity Authority (NBA) was established in 2003 to implement India's Biological Diversity Act (2002). The NBA is a statutory, Autonomous Body and it performs facilitative, regulatory and advisory function for the Government of India on issues of conservation, sustainable use of biological resources, fair and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the use of biological resources.

The Biological Diversity Act, (2002), mandates implementation of the Act through decentralized system with the NBA focusing on advising the Central Government on matters relating to the conservation of biodiversity, sustainable use of its components and equitable sharing of benefits arising out of the utilization of biological resources. The NBA with its headquarters in Chennai, Tamil Nadu, delivers its mandate through a structure that comprises of the Authority, Secretariat, SBBs, BMCS and Expert Committees.

About the Seminar

A number of emerging areas of law have not figured either in the curriculum of law teaching institutions or in the skill building exercises for a practitioner of law. As such, while the demand for Professional Advice, Practice and Conflict Resolution are constantly on the ascendancy on these areas, comprehension, capacity to understand and the much needed skill of application, are conspicuous by their absence in the academia, bar and the Bench. It is thus an imperative need, to update and adequately equip in them among all the concerned. Biodiversity Law is one such area craving for attention in the academia for putting into application through practice for a law professional. The National Workshop on Bio-Diversity Law - A Cross Over Regime Between Conservation And Commerce is intended to address this felt need. Being organised by BMS College of Law, one of the premier law teaching institutions in India, that has produced world class practitioners of law (that includes, eminent judges of India stature) presents an excellent opportunity for law teachers, budding lawyers and Young Professionals to get initiated into this exciting aspect of learning and application of law. The Commons Cell in National Law School of India University, Bengaluru and the National Biodiversity Authority, Chennai are partnering BMS Law College, by lending their expertise and experience in this intellectual enterprise.

The workshop intends to acquaint, familiarise and build skills in the knowledge, application and practice of biodiversity law in India, among the students, teachers, researchers and practitioners of law. A number of Expert Presentations on a wide variety of issues concerning the law await the participants in the Plenary Sessions.

In order to facilitate participation in larger numbers and to act as a catalyst for gaining deeper insights in the subject, parallel sessions are conceived to enable teachers, practitioners and students from different parts of India to make presentations on a number of themes, as indicated below.

1. Case Law concerning Biodiversity
2. Comparative study of Biodiversity legal regime in other countries
3. Adequacy of safeguard measures to enforce biodiversity concerning invasive species and hazardous living organisms
4. Efficacy and effectiveness of provisions and measures for preventing bio-piracy

The workshop intends to acquaint, familiarise and build skills in the knowledge, application and practice of biodiversity law in India, among the students, teachers, researchers and practitioners of law. A number of Expert Presentations on a wide variety of issues concerning the law await the participants in the Plenary Sessions.

In order to facilitate participation in larger numbers and to act as a catalyst for gaining deeper insights in the subject, Parallel sessions are conceived to enable teachers, practitioners and students from different parts of India to make presentations on a number of themes, as indicated below:

2. Comparative study of Biodiversity legal regime in other countries
